Everglades Gatorland Attracts Tourists & Homefolks

"From the Tensions of Highways To the Peaceful Face of Nature"

"Where do we find some alligators? We've been in Florida for three hundred-fifty miles and have not seen a gator yet!" Such were some of the bewildered questions asked of Mr. J. G. Bowen and Mr. O'Neal Walker some five years ago as they managed their service stations in South Bay, Florida. It was tourist questions like these which led them to open Everglades Gatorland on Highway 27 just south of South Bay. They decided it was time they had some definite directions to give to those who sought these long time reptile residents of Florida.

Since March 1961, the time of Gatorlands opening until today this wildlife wonderland has grown in area and in population. It covers an area of around twenty acres of water and twenty acres of land. The landscaping is typically Floridian with beautiful tropical foliage and trees appropriately arranged along the walkways and paths. It is enjoyed not only by thousands of tourists, but by many residents of the Glades as well.

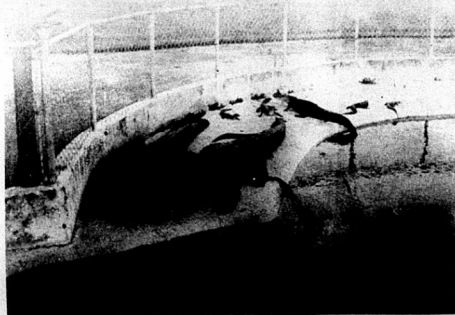

Let's go on a tour right now! If you are a tourist you will enjoy the change of atmosphere — from the tensions of the traveled highway to the peaceful face of nature. If you live nearby perhaps there may be some new inhabitants of Gatorland you have not seen.

Taking the path to the left we come to perhaps the most unpopular, but still, a very interesting group of Gatorland inhabitants — the snakes! Mr. Eddie Haynes, a senior at Belle Glade High School cares for the snakes and has many interesting experiences with these friends of his. All except one of the snakes, the boa constrictor, is a native of Florida. There are moccasins, rattlesnakes, coral snakes and the only non-poisonous one — the king snake. Each type has its own cubical in the snake condominium with his name and characteristics printed above his picture window.

We continue our walk toward the lake passing by the home of two Rhesus monkeys. They are usually occupied with the presence of children, big and little, who take great delight in watching them pace their cage or climb the wire and swing on their swing. The expressions on their faces indicate they have the care of the world right on their own backs.

As we cross the half-moon

Yes, We Have Alligators In The Glades!

bridge which spans a small stream we can not help but think of the old troll, and the billy goats gruff — wondering if perhaps the troll might be under this particular bridge about to complain that we are crossing it. We don't see a troll, but as we step on solid ground we are greeted, though a little hesitantly, by a little five month old fawn. If we move slowly he will allow us to gently scratch his head. In fact, he'll eat right out of your hand — if you have a lump of sugar in it.

Down at the lakeside the ducks, pheasants and peacocks come up to greet you as though they have known you for years. If you walk with them along the water's edge you might spy an egg or two — be careful where you step.

To the quacking of the ducks and the honk of the peacock we continue our tour all the way over to the right and find the homes of several kinds of animals who are native inhabitants of the Gladieland area. The bobcats look as calm and tame as the family tabby cat, but we keep our hands to ourselves realizing that in this case looks certainly are deceiving. The skunks seem to be more interested in sleeping than in parading for their visitors. In fact, it seems to be nap time for this entire area for even the grey fox, the raccoons, and of course the owls are sleeping.

Probably the most talked about things at Gatorland are the alligators, at least by the tourist. When most tourists hear of the Everglades they immediately, in their mind's eye, see a grey, drooling gator ready to slide up to the car and chomp as soon as the door opens. It must be to their fears to see that Gatorland gators are confined to their own private pool. This dogbone shaped pool is right in the heart of the Gatorland acreage which is certainly fitting and proper, since it's name is derived from these awesome creatures. Recently a shade roof has been built above the pool to shade the alligators. We were being blistered by sun.

We would spend more time observing the alligators, but another pool has caught our eyes. This pool is built above the surface of the ground. Wondering what we will see, we cautiously look over the side and are pleasantly surprised to find an otter. This happy little fellow swims playfully around his pool in acrobatics which make him appear to be anything from a porpoise to a corkscrew. We could stay here all day watching this little clown.

The tour of the wildlife is ended except for several questions that have arisen in our minds. If we are lucky we have had them answered by the Walker's five year old son, Harry O., who can tell us anything about everything there. Who feeds the animals? Harry O. and some other helpers! Who cares for the animals if they become ill? Harry O. and the veterinarian! Who brings in new animals for Gatorland? Harry O., friends, the game commission and some come from zoos! Who cleans the cages? Not Harry O! In spite of his youthful age Harry O. is indeed a well-informed guide and certainly would be hard to beat by any other information source.

We are just about to leave Everglades Gatorland when we discover the little fawn has been following us for quite some time. "Do you know why?" asked Harry O. with a big grin. "It's because you have a hibiscus in your hand and he wants to eat it." We are happy to feed it to him for it gives a perfect ending to our pleasant journey into this outdoor wildlife wonderland.

Tourist now have their questions readily answered with explicit directions when they stop at the Bowen's and Walker's service station asking about alligators. "Why, the gators are right here in the Glades — just two miles south on the right at Everglades Gatorland."

Ministerial Groups Merge; Elect Slate Of Officers

The monthly meeting of the Belle Glade Area Ministerial Association was held in the Glades General Hospital Cafeteria on Wednesday, November 10th. Following breakfast served by the hospital, the regular meeting was called to order by the president. It was announced that the Belle Glade Ministerial Association and the Inter-Local Ministerial Association had merged into one organization to be hereafter known as the Belle Glade Area Ministerial Association.

A nominating committee composed of Reverends J. B. Adams, Joel Miles, M. W. Sindle, H. E. Green, and W. R. Pickles submitted the following slate of officers for the year of 1966: Reverends J. Paul Vondracek of the Everglades Presbyterian Church, president; J. B. Adams of the First Baptist Church, vice-president; Richard Y. Roseman of the St. Peter's Lutheran Church, secretary; and O. D. Williams of the New Bethel Church, Treasurer. (This slate of officers was unanimously elected by the members.)

The Hospital Committee, composed of Reverends W. R. Boland, F. X. Fenech, and R. Y. Roseman reported on the progress of the proposed Hospital Chapel. A sketch of the proposed chapel, drawn up by Mr. Stuart H. Fuller was submitted to the Association by the Committee, and approved by the Association. It was suggested that all area churches be notified of these plans that the members might have the opportunity to contribute to the furnishings of this Chapel.

The Hospital Committee further suggested that a religious preference book of the patients be devised and these names be entered up on the admission and dismissal of the patient, that the local ministers might be able to better administer to the sick. This suggestion was approved by the association.

It was approved to send a donation of $50.00 to the Transient Fund, and that Police Chief Goodlett be invited to the next regular meeting to discuss this Transient Aid program with the ministers.

It was announced that the annual Community Thanksgiving service of the Co-operating Churches will be conducted on November, the 25th, at 10:00 A. M. in the Belle Glade Church of God, M. W. Sindle, host pastor. The breakfast was opened with prayer by Reverend W. R. Boland of the Community Methodist Church, and was closed by the President.

Two motorists involved in a head-on collision were killed almost instantly on State Road 80 about 6 p. m. last Friday about 1.1 miles east of Belle Glade. Mrs. Alice Anthony Lindley, 31, of Sneads and Harold M. Wallace, 56, of 636 S. Haverhill Road, West Palm Beach, were pronounced dead on arrival at Glades General Hospital. The collision occurred according to Florida Highway Patrol Trooper William Tremmer, when Mrs. Lindley pulled out to pass another west bound car. Mrs. Lindley was pinned under the steering wheel of her demolished car for 28 minutes before she could be extricated.

Wallace was driving a 1966 model pickup truck, he had sold to Jack Cook, a local harvester about two hours before the accident. Wallace was employed by Earl Wallace Ford, Delray Beach and was returning the vehicle to be serviced. Cook identified Wallace's body at the Mixson Funeral home and had drove to the scene and identified the pickup.

Two Lose Lives In Head On Crash

Tremmer, who was joined by Cpl. Jackman and Patrolman McGowan said the crash apparently occurred before either victim could apply brakes. Witnesses said Wallace was also trapped under the steering wheel of the truck that caught fire before he could be taken from the wreckage.

It was reported Mrs. Lindley was making a surprise visit to her husband, James L. Lindley, employed by the Glades Correctional Institution and had apparently taken the wrong road to 20 Mile Bend and was lost, while her husband at the same time had gone home to Sneads, only to learn when he called her to see if she had arrived, that she was in the fatal crash.

The body of Mrs. Lindley was sent to Neal's Funeral home at Marianna for interment at Sneads. Survivor's in the immediate family were her husband James Lindley, one son James Lindley, Jr., and one daughter, Shirley Ann Lindley of Sneads. Mixson's Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Wallace's body was removed to Tillman's Funeral Home on Military Trail, West Palm Beach. Services were conducted at 11 a. m. Monday.

The Smokin Glades!

There's a fire — many small ones — what Clarence Bittling would call an important contribution to Agro-Industry: the ever-increasing burning of tobacco, in cigarettes.

The tobacco is burned or thrown away in "butts," so that the demand increases as the harvest season approaches and gets under full swing, giving the Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky and northeastern states an opportunity to continue.

Even the warnings of medical men of the danger of cancer from smoking cigarettes hasn't decreased the use of cigarettes in the Glades.

From Clewiston to Pahokee, cigarette users "smoked" in some $24,737 in taxes, plus approximately $3,400 to the General Fund of the State's Treasury.

The four municipalities got the $24,737, distributed as follows: South Bay $1,712, Pahokee $4,833, Clewiston $5,747, with Belle Glade getting more than half of the total $12,450; this was for September.

Every Bass (L. to R.) Mrs. Violet Felsing, Exec. Secretary and Commissioner Aubrey Farmer inspect the beautification project across from the Chamber of Commerce; Bert Ward another member of the committee has just gone for some bolts, 2x4s or other materials.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 9, little Cheryl Glen Rutledge was crowned as "Miss Glade View Elementary for 1965-66." The setting was the auditorium of the school which was decorated in keeping with the theme: "Operation Excellence — Destination Moon."

The queen's throne was beautifully decorated in white satin and silver. Prior to the coronation, Miss A. M. Bryant played a medley of tunes, after which Mr. Walter Stephens, the principal, brought greetings to the audience. The occasion was given by Miss B. J. Wright who also acted as narrator for the evening.

The queen's court was as follows: "Miss First Grade" Irene Dennis-Gregory Verreen; "Miss Second Grade" Lauren Danette Mobley-Antoine Cedric Russell; "Miss Third Grade" Jennifer Gail Little - Anthony Frazer; Third Attendant Glenda Dale Nelson - Napoleon; Second Attendant Cynthia Levene Campbell-Taylor, and First Attendant Lavette Edith Robinson - Reginal Johnson. Lt. Mingle Blake and Lt. Willie Roberts, of the Glade View School Patrol, served as honor guards and formed a beautiful arch of raised spears through which her majesty marched.

C. A. Bailey Memorials

Three new books were added to the Belle Glade Library collection this week as a memorial to Mr. Clarence A. Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Roberts presented a copy of THE AMERICAN HERITAGE HISTORY OF THE GREAT WEST. A profusely illustrated volume with between-chapter portfolios, it traces the paths of pioneers, trappers, mountain men, missionaries, and adventurers.

Two volumes from the LIFE NATURE LIBRARY were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ball. THE REPTILES, is a colorful study of the "cold-blooded" fraternity. Its author, Archie Carr, received his graduate degrees at the University of Florida, where he has taught in the Biology Department since 1937.

The Book ECOLOGY is a study of living things in relation to their environment and to each other. Photographs in this memorial volume illustrate how all living things are tied to their homes by a multitude of invisible strands.

The theme of the Fair and Exposition for 1966 is "Portraying New Horizons in the Development of our Natural Resources in Culture, Commercial, Research and Communications."

The club decided to increase the dues by $1.00 a year, 11 percent participation in all club affairs will decrease the extra dollar dues.

The cutlery's meeting was announced to be held Monday, Nov. 22 at the church.

Miss Seiler was presented with a lovely purple orchid corsage. Others in the receiving line were variegated purple and white orchid corsages, while those serving wore white orchid corsages.

The tea table was lovely with a white lace cloth. The color scheme of pink, white and pale green was carried out in the mints, cookies, punch and tea sandwiches. Forming a background for the refreshments on the table was a white china candelabra holding pink tapers.

The honoree received many beautiful and useful gifts in her chosen patterns. Miss Seiler and Mr. Peter Henning will be united in marriage December 5 at the Community Methodist Church.

PTA Speakers Emphasize Parents' Responsibility

Parents of Gove Elementary School PTA went home on Monday night with the problem of producing better citizens laid squarely in their laps and as their responsibility.

Sheriff Martin Kellenberger was the first of the round table speakers to let the parents have it, backing it up with the need for the parents to know where their children are, whom they are with, and what they are doing. Respect for God, our country, and fellow man were strongly emphasized as qualities to foster in our children.

Teamwork Stressed

Mrs. Ronald Jones, who followed, re-emphasized many of the points made and brought stress on the idea of self-discipline, bringing in the Commandments one by one with examples of parents acting contrary to them in everyday situations, as well as the children. Mrs. Jones stated that she felt the church should undergird the home and the home the church with all members of the family being active in the religious field — "Love thy neighbor as thyself" — was a strong keynote of her discussion.

Coach Bill Burke with the athletic program of the Belle Glade High School, stressed the importance of teamwork and cooperation in the home as well as on the field. Respect of parents, teachers, and of others was an idea he forcefully presented. Coach brought the idea of giving and striving to do the best as being American traditions in any field, thus a father should be playing to win. He fully supported the idea of a recreation director, and the need to harness teen age energy in the school and community.

Avoid Criticism

Mrs. Tommy Forsee, mother and grandmother, advised the group to soft pedal criticism, give a lot of understanding and love to the children, and keep your sense of humor. She advised mothers to stay in contact with each other, and to support each other in the promotion of ideas and ideals. And when you say "No," stick to it.

Dr. Forsee, head of the Everglades Experiment Station, father and grandfather, stressed the idea of self-discipline, and to avoid the overuse of the word "No." He strongly recommended the idea of doing chores in the family circle because you are a part of it, not for money or rewards. He stated it was the responsibility of the parents to give the children what they "need" but the children should work for extra money for what they "want." He ended with a humorous note of saying these things one should do with their children, but as for the grandchildren it was the time of indulgence for grandparents, for after all it was the job of the parents to rear good citizens!

Audience Participated

The night's program was truly a meaningful one for all the parents present, as well as the teachers, many of whom were also parents. The audience participated in the program with questions and never was there a round table more appreciated for the thoughts and ideas they presented.

Preceding the business session, Mr. James P. Conway presented the Devotional based on the Twenty-Third Psalm.

Needs Cited

During the business session, over which President W. L. Cunningham presided, Mrs. Ed Duda, representative of Gove PTA to the city-wide conference which discussed the need for a recreational director, gave the group the information that an expression by voting was needed to know whether or not Gove parents and teachers felt such a director and program was needed for our city. When the motion was voted upon, it was obvious all felt the city needed a recreation program with director, and the school was willing to accept its share of the responsibility.

School Principal Mrs. Mabel Lutz then presented the need for air conditioning the school, and the motion was tabled for further thought, with the idea of all parents being contacted to support this project. It was announced that the room mothers would meet later this week to discuss ways and means of financing this project. Mrs. Lutz also told of tentative plans for a supper sponsored by a civic club when the auction items accumulated for the recent Carnival could be disposed of for the benefit of both Gove Elementary and Belle Glade.

Mr. Pugh Writes From Madrid, Spain:

Mr. Lee G. Pugh, a native of Birmingham, Alabama and a teacher at Lake Shore High is presently in Madrid, Spain studying under a governmental grant. He wrote the following letter to the principal and Lake Shore Family.

Hospital La Ponderosa Princess 70 Madrid, Spain October 24, 1965 Principal Charles M. McCarty and Lake Shore High School Family: My Buenos dias, By now you should be completely immersed in this year's challenge of teaching, while I'm being baptized in the Spanish language, their system of education, customs and traditions.

Following the form of the true adventurer, my wife and I decided to enter Madrid, Spain, without having made prior living arrangements or hotel reservations. Well, we arrived on September 21st at the peak of the tourist season and there was no room in the inn. There were no available hotel rooms to be found in Madrid. With three duffle bags, one suitcase, and an understanding taxi driver (who cut off his meter) we searched the capital of Spain several hours for a place to lay our heads. After what seemed like eternity, we finally found a "pension" in Old Madrid on the same street of Lope de Vega's house (Spain's Shakespeare). We moved after one week because of wanting to be near the university.

Our permanent address while in Spain is above La Ponderosa! Reminds you of "Bonanza" doesn't it? You haven't seen "Bonanza" until you've been here on TV in Spanish. It's a riot just to hear one of the characters say "Hola, Hola." La Ponderosa is a "pension" in Old Madrid on the same street of Lope de Vega's house (Spain's Shakespeare). We moved after one week because of wanting to be near the university.

It's exhilarating to be back in the academic world of studying. My course work is fascinating and quite challenging. I'm studying the following courses: Spanish language and Composition, Spanish literature, History of Spanish Art, Spanish Geography, Critical Analysis of Spanish Texts, History of Spain, & History of Spanish Philosophy. All of these are taught in Spanish, of course. My class load is nineteen hours weekly for nine months. Next summer, I shall study Phonetics, Spanish Music and Folklore, and French. Thus, out of the twelve month grant, I shall have actual course work for almost eleven months.

During holiday periods (26 days around Christmas and 11 days around Easter), I shall make observational notations of Spanish culture, customs, tradition, festivities, etc., plus take slides throughout Madrid and surrounding cities. I plan to get as much as possible out of these twelve months.

I shall not attempt to describe the many experiences we've had in adjusting to the Spanish way of life; but it is a worthwhile experience.

I do hope that this school year will be an exciting one for Lake Shore's thrust to meet the twentieth century challenge of educating our youth.

The positivity of the future depends so heavily on our present endeavors.

Sincerely,

Lee G. Pugh

Lake Shore High Students Observe Homecoming

Bobcats Win Championship

Defeat Vikings

The Lake Shore High Bobcats played their Homecoming game on November 12, defeating the J. F. K. High Vikings 12-0. During the first quarter both teams were scoreless. At the beginning of the second quarter the Bobcats made a touchdown by a pass thrown from Charles Haynes to Ronald Cook. Later in the second quarter after two first downs Kennedy was deep into Lake Shore's territory. Daniel Parrish then intercepted a pass thrown by a quarterback of the Vikings' team. During the last four minutes of the game Charles Haynes completed a touchdown pass to Jay Sheehy to boost the score to 13-0. This game was the biggest event of the season for the Bobcats. Hundreds of spectators came out to cheer the Bobcats on to victory. The Bobcats also gave the Bobcats a perfect record of eight wins and most important this game makes the mighty Bobcats Southeast Atlantic Conference Champs.

The Creation Of The Bobcats

And the Bobcats ran out on the field, and looked around and said, "We'll win this game!" As far as the eyes of the spectators could see, the Bobcats covered everything. Carrying the ball across the goal line. And coach Irvin said, "That's 'Good'." Then the cheerleaders yelled and the band played: "Give Me That Old Lake Shore Spirit," and the Bobcats really got the Spirit.

Then Johnny Bailey reached out and took the ball into his hand and ran until he made a touch down. Raising the score higher than before. And coach Irvin said, "That's 'Good'." Then Webb made a block so Haynes could throw the ball to Freeman and from there they made another touchdown.

Fire Sizzles; Spirit Mounts

The Homecoming spirit truly ascended, Wednesday night, November 10, 1965 at the annual pre-coronation and homecoming bonfire. The purpose of the bonfire was to let our team know that we are behind them one hundred per cent at all times. As the fire popped and sizzled, the cheerleaders, assisted by the band, let the student body in numerous yells. After a triumphant round of yells, the captain of the football team, William Harper, led the crowd in some muscle building exercises. Everyone departed from the bonfire feeling safely assured that the Bobcats would defeat the Vikings on Homecoming night.

Up from the field McClendon kicked the ball into the air. Receiving it was one of the opponents, raising their score the same as ours. And there the great A might Bobcats, who made those enormous passes, who made all those unbelievable tackles, who made all those great touchdowns. These great Bobcats, like a child falling on his face, rolled over in the dirt, totling over the football. T'll they made another touchdown, and from there the Bobcats became undefeated once again. Hurrah! Hurrah!

A Girl Called Hank

By Amelia E. Walden

Looking for a thought-provoking novel that is filled with adventure, romance and intrigue, then try our action-packed book of the week. It concerns a young lady that was born to a sports-minded parents. They had four sons and wanted very much for their fifth child to be a boy so that they could have a boy's basketball team. Because their plans did not materialize, their little girl, Hank, grew up trying to compensate for their disappointment.

She became an excellent basketball player and proved to be a very valuable asset to the school's team. Most of her spare moments were spent on sports and consequently very little time was left for her personal appearance. She played with boys and dressed like them, that is, until she met Greg Sutherland, a newspaper reporter who was sent to interview her for one of the nation's leading newspaper. Hank and Greg were immediately attracted to each other. This created a problem for Hank. She now wanted to become a dignified young lady but found that she was confused about the selection of clothes for various occasions. After a series of rather ludicrous events, this problem was solved but another major one appeared. Someone was deliberately trying to keep Hank from playing on the team. Greg came to her assistance and Hank returned to the team. This is a fascinating novel and highly recommended to sports-minded readers.

Daisy McCoy

Book of the Week: ALMOST LIKE SISTERS, Betty Convanan.

This novel concerns a mother and daughter that looked almost like sisters. Mrs. Larimore was so flattered by this resemblance until she began to imitate Vicki's style of dress, habits and even participated in teenage activities.

Vicki gradually began to disapprove of her mother's actions but dared not tell her so. Things became complicated when Vicki was not permitted to select the College of her choice.

Read this stirring emotion-packed novel that is filled with pathos and thrills. It is a book that you will want to read more than once.

"A Successful Goof-Off"

In order for you not to succeed in school, you must do the following things:

1. Chew gum in school. The teacher can't tell you what to do. You are your own boss.
2. Skip your classes, after all this is your school and you can decide whether or not you want to go to that class.
3. Disrespect your teacher. You can only be suspended for ten (10) days.
4. Fight after school. This is the only way to solve your problems.
5. Talk incessantly in class because if you don't talk, the students might classify you as an intervert.
6. Pretend to be asleep when the rest of the students are working, after all one must get at least seventeen hours of sleep per day.
7. Always study in the room where a smaller brother or sister is playing, if the assignment is difficult, you will have someone to blame it on.
8. Never bring pen and paper to class. You had writing lessons in elementary school, why write now.
9. Never, never turn in your homework because you know much more than the teacher.

If you are a typical goof-off, you will adhere to the above statements religiously, thus guaranteeing for yourself a second term at the same grade level. This method has been tried and tested by several of our famous goof-offs. It worked successfully for them and I am sure that it will work for you that is, if you really care to try it.

Reserves Aid Rams In 33 to 0 Score

The Rams apparent determination to make short work of the Martin County team was evident in the first quarter when they scored twice on the visitors. In this quarter the Rams accumulated total of 138 yards rushing to nine for opponents including one drive for 68 yards and one for 41 yards. Tommy Woods made one counter with a thirteen-yard sprint, while Pat Gilbert weaved through the opponents for twenty-six yards for pay dirt. In the four quarters Belle Glade totaled 415 yards while the Martin County boys were gathering 54. Of the total 258 yards were through rushing and 157 by the aerial route. Suncoast Conference News

By Larry Bush
With Vero Beach virtually assured of the Eastern Division title, attention the final two weeks of the Suncoast Conference football season will be directed toward the Western Division race where Pahokee plays at Belle Glade November 24.

Each of these ancient rivals easily won its fifth conference game last Friday. Pahokee 18-1-1 for the season, Belle Glade 7-2. The Blue Devils lost to Ft. Lauderdale Nova and tied Seacrest. Belle Glade was beaten by Forest Hill and Seacrest.

John Pell passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third as Pahokee whipped Boca Raton 26-7 in a division game last Friday. Pat Gilbert scored twice as Belle Glade routed Stuart 33-0, holding the Tigers to a mere 45 yards rushing.

In the big game last Friday, Vero Beach held unbeaten Seacrest without a first down until the last minutes of the game and won 17-0 to insure a share of the Eastern Division title. Daryl Jacobs scored a 1st quarter touchdown for the Indians, recovering a wind-blown Seacrest punt in the Hawks' end zone.

Vero Beach has won five division games and is 7-2 for the season. The Indians close out their regular schedule November 24 at Dan McCarty, headed for its worst season in at least 20 years with but one victory in nine games.

Only two games will count in the conference standings this week. Seacrest plays at Forest Hill in the Eastern Division, while in the Western it's Clewiston at Okeechobee. Riviera Beach hosts Jupiter in an inter-division contest.

In non-conference games Friday night, Lake Worth plays at Fort Myers (6-2), Miami Military Academy (3-4-1) at Stuart, Boca Raton at West Palm Beach Cardinal Newman (4-3-1) & Arcadia (5-3) at Pahokee.

THE SCHATTEEN AFFAIR. Morfon.

Present-day Berlin is the background for this story of an estate, a part of West Berlin, that lies for the purposes of the story inside the bounds of the East Zone. A Jewish-American public relations man, and an aristocratic survivor of the Nazi past become involved in a

ICE STATION ZEBRA. MacLean.

An adventure under and above the ice, this novel is filled with intrigue and suspense. Of its heroes the most noted one is the nuclear submarine, DOLPHIN, which has been ordered to track down Ice Station Zebra, a British meteorological station on the polar ice which has been swept by fire.

THE LIBERATOR OF LORD BYRON JONES. Ford.

"A New Public Library For Belle Glade"

It was with a great deal of interest that the Lions Club heard from the ladies who gave us the above program. Belle Glade has suffered for a long time under the stigma of lack of culture.

To a greater degree this has, unfortunately, been true. We do not have a decent theatre (not even the cinema type) nor a satisfactory place in which to stage a theatrical or musical event. We have no band shell from which open air concerts could be given. There is no skating rink or other place for our young people to receive better class entertainment. We do have a library. The civic spirited people who have worked to make it a temple of learning have done a commendable job, considering the lack of civic enthusiasm and the paucity of funds to expand it. Now it seems this is being slowly changed for the better. Plans are in the making for us to give to the young, knowledge-thirsty minds, not only of our youth, but also of adults, an opportunity to discover the treasures of the mind encompassed within the covers of books. The Lions have been asked to lend a hand and it is to be hoped the opportunity to add one more star to our crown of local achievements will not be allowed to pass untended.

The staff of the library has worked hard, long hours in a building inadequate even for a good branch library and they deserve the plaudits of every enlightened mind in the city as well as a more tangible example of backing. Those of us who read the good books lodged in our library can appreciate how much more wonderful it will be when we have a broader and deeper selection from which to choose. When you see little children reading books, you know there is hope for them by their own efforts and the knowledge derived from books by them. No citizen of our town can truly say, if he has any interest in the welfare of his fellows, "what do you want with more books and a better library?" He should know that the fountain head of all learning reposes in people who read. Let's back the New Library with all our abilities.

Communism vs. the Free Individual

The November issue of The Reader's Digest carries an impressive article under the title "Communism vs. the Free Individual." Its author is Walter H. Judd, who has led a varied career — he is a physician, was a medical missionary in China before World War II, and served in Congress for many years. In late years, he has been lecturing and meeting with students at colleges and universities. His article takes the question-answer form, the questions being those most frequently asked by his young audiences.

One is "How does communism differ from socialism?" Here Dr. Judd makes the point that, while both are predicated on the idea that government knows best what to do with the earnings of the people, socialists mean to attain their goals voluntarily, communists by compulsion. Then he says: "In actual practice, however, the differences between socialism and communism tend to be minimized. The need to achieve results has forced socialists more and more to resort to stern controls which deprive the people of freedom, and communist governments lately have found it necessary to permit some degree of personal incentive."

Another question is, "If communists believe so firmly in a better life for all, why do they want to take over the world by force?" Dr. Judd answers that communist dogma holds that all that is evil has its roots in capitalism — therefore capitalism must be totally destroyed the world over. The communists are convinced that the end justifies any means — as witness the ruthless extermination of seven million kulaks, who were small capitalists in Russian eyes, under Stalin.

A third question has to do with whether the communist might be right about the basic nature of people. Dr. Judd answers with an emphatic No, and bases it on the record of communism. Despite Russia's vast resources and huge population, all manner of shortages continue to exist. Her people, coerced as they may be simply will not do their best under the system. In Dr. Judd's words, "This experience tends to prove that self-reliance, initiative and competitiveness are inborn characteristics of man."

He has no faith in the doctrine of "peaceful co-existence." In dealing with this, he terms it "... a means for effecting our destruction." As a tactical move, communists may seem to soften attitude from time to time. But the goal of world domination remains.

The most potent of his questions is probably this: "... what can we do to prevent present tensions from developing into World War III? His answer is — that unless we are willing to surrender and become communist slaves — we must firmly resist any and all communist aggressions. He cites instance after instance in the postwar period when we have done this — and in everyone of them the communists, despite all their threats, backed down. These took place in Iran, Greece, Berlin during the blockade and the air-lift, and so on. They include the establishment of NATO, the rearmament of West Germany, and the Cuban missile crisis. He writes, "If we mean to hold on to our liberties and save the world for freedom, there is only one way to do it: stand firm and meet all threats not with counter threats or empty belligerence, but with steady and determined action in support of free people."

Sportsmanship - Fair Play

The air is tense with anticipation in the Glades as folks conjecture which team — Belle Glade Rams or Pahokee Blue Devils — will be awarded the Bill Young Memorial Trophy.

Thanksgiving eve the Rams compete with the Blue Devils on our home field for the Conference Title. Awarded 22 times to one of the two teams, the Trophy, which is given by Belle Glade and Pahokee Lions Clubs, has as its purpose the perpetuation of ideals of sportsmanship and fair play in the athletic competitions between the two high schools. Three games were played by the two Community teams prior to the establishment of the Lions Annual Football Trophy, subsequently renamed the Bill Young Memorial Trophy.

The Trophy was first awarded November 12, 1943, going to Pahokee Blue Devils who scored 39 against Belle Glade Rams O. Statistics kept by the Lions Clubs show Belle Glade has, in the 22 succeeding years, won eleven games and there have been three ties.

Belle Glade has had possession of the trophy 13 times, having won eleven games, and having retained possession on two occasions as a result of tie games.

Three games were played between the two teams prior to the institution of the Trophy Award.

This year, Belle Glade and Pahokee Lions were confronted with the fact that little room remains on the present cup for engraving names of the annual winners. With feeling predominate in procuring a new Trophy some loss of the tradition might result, both clubs voted to procure a base on which the Trophy will be mounted, and award winners name will be engraved on each of the four sides in coming years.

The first Pahokee-Belle Glade football game to be played on Thanksgiving Eve was held November 27, 1946

GARRISON, N. D., INDEPENDENT: "... a high-ranking postal official in Washington did acknowledge that the U. S. Normally, according to the assistant to the regional postoffice director at Minneapolis, the Post Office Dept. hires 1,500 seasonal assistants each summer. . . . This year, under the new program, it has hired 7,500. . . . BIG BOOK

The atlas is quite an armful. (I had a time lugging it down off the shelf, but he wanted, once again, to look at some of the fascinating pictures.)

He's a small boy for such a big book. Maybe he doesn't understand all of it. But it whets his curiosity, and the curiosity of a small boy is truly insatiable.

Even as 'Chip' glances at the pictures, questions are racing through his mind. And to whom will he address these questions? To 'you'?

When youngsters ask questions, it is up to us, supposedly "grownup" and therefore wiser, to try to give them the right answers. In this day of some times-changing and changing values, that isn't always easy. We must first make sure that we have the true basic answers ourselves. There is no surer way of doing this than by arming ourselves with the faith and wisdom found in the Holy Scriptures and in our churches.

THANKSGIVING BY CHURCH SERVICES

Mary-Ruth Circle Hears Program On Thanksgiving

The Mary-Ruth Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Community Methodist Church, Belle Glade, held its regular monthly meeting at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hooker. In the absence of Mrs. George F. Parrall, Mrs. M. M. Sabiston presided and opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. W. B. Heath presented the devotion. The program was held in the presence of Thanksgiving. Mrs. Tevis Hugely reported the best of the home of Mrs. W. R. Hooker. By Bishop Herbert Welch. Songs were sung by Mrs. W. R. Hooker and Mrs. M. M. Sabiston.

TODAY'S Meditation

Read Matthew 23:36-39
For the moment all disciplines seem painful rather than pleasant; later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it.
Hebrews 12:11 (niv)

THE first thought that comes to the visitor to the Garden of Gethsemane is that it was here Jesus prayed in great heaviness of spirit, "Father... not my will, but thine, be done."

This is a prayer which the Christian needs to pray every day. We must remember, however, that it is not to be limited to the times when we face some unusual trial or bitter experience.

The will of God, we must never forget, embraces the whole of our life... its times of triumph and joy, its hours of darkness and defeat.

The afflictions of life are not a part of God's ultimate will. We can be sure that whatever Jesus strove to expel from our world—sickness, doubt, fear, unbrotherliness—these are all contrary to God's will and cannot endure forever. When we seek to displace these things from our lives and from our world, we are working with Christ and in harmony with God's will.

PRAYER: Father, help us to pray not with our lips only but with our lives, that this day Thy perfect will may be done to Thy name's honor and glory and for the Master's sake. Amen.

Lutherans To Observe Thanksgiving

St. Peter's Lutheran Church will conduct Thanksgiving services on Thursday, Nov. 25 at 10 a. m. The theme will be "Give us this day our Daily Bread." Matthew 6:11.

Rev. R. J. Roemeran invites all to come and worship the Giver of all good and perfect gifts at this special service of Thanksgiving.

"In this day of plenty and abundance, Rev. Roemeran said, "we sometimes fail to God and acknowledge that it is God who gives, and it is God who takes away. Let us therefore at each opportunity enter into His

Thanksgiving Service Christian Scientist Church

The traditional Thanksgiving day service of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Belle Glade, Avenue E. will take place at 11:00 A. M. Thursday, Nov. 25. Friends and the public are especially invited. This annual service is distinctive for its concluding testimony period when any Christian Scientist in the congregation may rise to his feet and openly express his individual thanks to God for blessings received.

A hymn and reading of the "Present" will follow. Thanksgiving Day observance will open the sermon. Readings of Scriptural selections, prayer, and a Lesson-Sermon on "Thanksgiving" will be taken from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (the Christian textbook, by Mary Baker Eddy).

Rams Fight For Trophy Rams Standings

The Bill Young Memorial Trophy will be presented to the victorious team immediately after the Belle Glade-Pahokee game on November 24. For the last six years, the trophy has been in the Rams' hands.

This trophy was given by the Belle Glade and Pahokee Lions' Clubs in 1943 to encourage good sportsmanship between the two schools. Belle Glade has won the trophy eleven times to the lesser total of eight for the Blue Devils with three ties.

Helpful Hints

1. For Thanksgiving add variety to your punch bowl parties by using a hollowed out pumpkin or melon. It makes an unusual table decoration and gives your punch a special fruit flavor.
2. To add flavor and color to your frosting made from confectioner's sugar, simply add a package of powdered fruit drink.
3. If you don't wear eye-makeup, dab some petroleum jelly on your lashes. It makes them look darker and longer. Use an old, clean toothbrush to brush and separate lashes.
4. Do your hair bows often get lost? Then try making a "Bow Dangler." Use a piece of ribbon approximately 1 inch wide. Make loops out of ribbon. Now hang the ribbon on the wall with your hair bows in the loops, and you have a decorative and useful "Bow Dangler."
5. A sink plunger serves nicely as a marking device for pinning items. It will stand alone, leaving the marker's hands free for pinning the item. Mark skirt length on handle with chalk and move the plunger around the item as you pin.
6. Keep old bread boxes and decorate them with paint and decals which make perfect containers for any stationery and letters you may want to store.
7. To make attractive and inexpensive covers for your books and notebooks, use a little imagination and any left-over material you may have. Sew the pieces of material together in any pattern you like and then attach to the covers. Notice how much longer your book lasts.

One side of the cup shows the years Belle Glade had possession of the trophy and the other side lists the years Pahokee has kept it.

Think Of The Thought

Most of us think of Thanksgiving as a time of turkey and dressing, a resting time, a holiday and most of all a break from the monotony of campus life.

But do we actually treat this national holiday as we should?

Thanksgiving, as most of us know was begun by the Pilgrims as a festival to give thanks to their creator for their salvation through the cold winter.

Thanksgiving has not lost its full meaning. It is a time to give thanks, not only for the food we eat but for everything we have ever had. Here in this country we are extremely fortunate in not only having enough to eat but being able to compete with other people for the luxuries of life. The things we take for granted would be luxuries to about two billion of the world's human inhabitants.

When we Americans sit down to Thanksgiving dinner, let us think of how fortunate we are. May we think of those starving Asians across the ocean who trade places with any American. And may we think of how thankful the thoughtful Pilgrims were on that first Thanksgiving. If we Americans will just think we will find that we have much to be thankful for.

Football Festival Begins With Parade

It is a tradition at B. G. H. S. to have a bonfire at the football field to burn a Pahokee Blue Devil, the night before the Belle Glade-Pahokee football game. A parade will start at the McDonald Park, November 22.

The marching band will lead the victory journey to the bonfire. Students who join in a snake dance of the season.

be led by the varsity cheerleaders.

Kings and queens of three classes were selected during separate class meetings. Included this year are floats from the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. They are being built around town in various places for the football festival.

They will ride on the floats during the Pahokee game activities. Seniors have postponed their elections till the sponsors have been chosen. It was decided that football players would be ineligible to compete for King.

The kings and queens are Sue Morris and Sonny Campbell, Junior; Carol Bell and Tommy Altman, freshman.

The floats will be judged the night of the Bonfire Parade. Those riding the winning float will be crowned King and Queen of the festival.

Science Club Plans Chapter

The Science Club had their first regular meeting of the month last week. Ellen Kewee presided at the meeting and Mr. Alderman was the sponsor.

The main point of business was trying to form a chapter of the Florida Junior Academy of Science. The club also planned a field trip to the East Coast and another one to Miami. Science Club will be sponsoring the concession stand at the Martin County (Stuart) Fair. In addition to this, they will sponsor the big dance after the Belle Glade-Pahokee game and hope to have it in the gym with the Chevelles.

F. F. A. Members Elect Girls For Annual Sweetheart Contest

The third meeting of the Future Farmers of America was held last week. Four contestants were elected from each grade for the Sweetheart Contest. The contestants are Pat Burkett, Cynthia Thibault, Judy Miki, and Jackie Baughman in the ninth grade, Ivy Lou Barrett, Susie Rhymes, Pam Whitman and Cecelia Engfinger in the eleventh grade. In the twelfth grade, Libby White, Lynda Stewart, Pat Lane, and Pat Hodges.

No business was brought before the Chapter.

After the meeting, a wheelbarrow race was conducted. The winners of the race were: Don Campbell, and Ronald Shirley. As prizes, each received two dollars.

F.T.A. Cadets Help Elementary Students

The cadet teaching program of the F. T. A. got underway on November 17 with 19 girls participating.

Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Helen Spooner, worked out the details of the program. Students were asked which grade they would like to teach. Not all teachers received a cadet so it was hard to place all students in the grade of their choice.

The requirements for Cadet Teachers were, they were to meet with their teacher once a week for six weeks. If they are unable to be present at the appointed time, it is their responsibility to notify the teacher and arrange for another time. An Evaluation Sheet must be completed at the end of each session. At the end of the six weeks, these sheets will be handed in to the club sponsor.

Thursday, the girls went to the Elementary school for a half a day. The duties of the cadets were numerous; some taught, some did odd jobs, others observed. During the morning the cadets received a welcome from Mr. Crawford, the principal, over the intercom.

One of the main factors expressed was that the girls must remember that they represent the F. T. A. They must dress neatly, be polite and be interested and eager to work and learn.

Cadet teaching gives experience to the unqualified student who is completely stumped about the teaching profession.

Back The Rams!

Gossiping Gandy

Well folks, here we are again, ready to spread all the gossip we've collected this week.

Sue Y. are you still carrying a torch for that Clewiston fellow?

The Magic Show was hilarious even to the faculty. Right, Mr. Morris, Mr. Ward and Mr. Evans? Pat L. thought it was so funny she almost lost her head. What did you think of the show Dennis P., Kevin W., Cary W. and Mary Kate?

Need a spare tire Ronnie G.?

Wonder what Journalism student is selling the most subscriptions? I hear it's a race between Libby W. and Brenda P.

John Lee and Bill M. are those shoes as sharp as they look?

It must be nice to be invited to the Clewiston Homecoming, Brenda B.

Tanya C. we hear you were receiving a lot of phone calls and letters lately from a certain fellow. Ellen K., is it the same way with you?

Amanda B. and Pat C. what's so great about Pahokee on Sunday afternoon?

Brenda K. what do you go shopping in Lake Worth so often?

Just how many dates are you going to have for the Sadie Hawkins dance, Wayne W.?

Genie H. you sure have become awful popular out at the radio station. Who pays you all those visits?

Sadie H. what is so interesting at park these nights? Jorgi C. must be trying to be the mama saint.

George M. how has it been going out at grandpa's these days?

Eddie J. We've seen you hanging around a certain cute girl. How about some action?

Becky B. Sara P. and Amanda B. did you enjoy the Massey Business College session or was it just Mr. Crowley's speech?

EH, SENIORS, why don't we pack 55 on a 44-seat bus and go to New York for our trip?

The table at the park shelter may be beyond repair thanks to Jane W., Riley F., and especially Cary W. Pipe I., when are you going to leave that white shirt at home?

The R. O. T. C. dance was a big success. Look for more action from that club throughout the year.

The table at the park shelter may be beyond repair thanks to Jane W., Riley F., and especially Cary W. Pipe I., when are you going to leave that white shirt at home?

Who Is It?

Mickey McGahee — "Curly-locks"

Linda Hood — Look at those toes!

Sara Fernandez — I know it's Lura by the curly hair.

Jimmy Jackson — Who is it?

Ronald Shirley — Connie VanCamp?

Jeannet Pearson — It's Lura!

P. Bowen — It's a little P. whose night gown is too big for her.

Sandra Farmer — She's sure got curly hair. It's gotta be Lura Livingston.

Amanda Bailey — Oh! Brothel!

Sandy Goodbread — Curly-locks herself.

Jimmy McMurphy — Connie VanCamp?

Kathy Ogle — Oh! Not Beth, but OH! OH! Lura!

This curly-locks, with a grin for everyone, is a member of the junior class. For those who have nut-gussed who is it, her name is LURA MARQUETTE LIVINGSTON.

Seniors Benefit From College Day

Approximately fifty seniors participated in the annual College Day Program which was held at Pahokee High School, November 9, 1985.

In order to decide what colleges to invite to take part in the program, Mr. Luke distributed blanks on which all interested seniors were asked to designate their first, second, and third preference of colleges.

After the collection of all blanks, invitations were mailed to those institutions whose names were the most requested by many of the students.

Representatives from the University of Florida in Gainesville, the University of South Florida in Tampa, Stetson University in Deland, Florida Southern College in Lakeland, Palm Beach Junior College in Lake Worth, Massey Business College in Jacksonville, and the University of Miami in Coral Gables, were present to supply the pertinent information concerning their school.

A thirty-minute session was set for for each representative in which he had to speak to the seniors about his college, hand out pamphlets of basic information, and answer any questions that any student asked. Each senior who participated was required to attend at least three sessions.

F. T. A. OBSERVES

EDUCATION WEEK

Special recognition was given to veterans last Wednesday and Friday. On Wednesday, Jane Zump, vice president of F. T. A. Club read Mr. Fulton's letter to the student body over the P. A. system in reverence of this special occasion.

A record of "America" was played over the intercom. On Friday, the students spent a few moments in meditation.

Mr. Fulton's suggestion was carried out with success by the Future Teachers of America Club. We hope that all students join in the observance of Veteran's Day and American Education Week by our school.

Upon receiving a letter from Superintendent Robert Fulton, Mr. Morris asked the F. T. A. to conduct a few minutes of reverence in observance of Veterans' Day, on November 11.

Superintendent Fulton stated that the basis upon which our school's foundations were built are the fundamentals and principles that our veterans fought so bravely to preserve.

Since the armistice was signed at approximately 11 o'clock a. m., Superintendent Fulton suggested that a few minutes of reverence be observed at 11 o'clock one day during the week of November 7-13, designated as American Education Week.

De Interes General

En Belle Glade se comenta la posibilidad de una nueva industria, la manufactura de "furfural" que se hace del bagazo o residuo de caña de azucar. Furfural se usa para la manufactura de sintéticos y tambien como base para aceites lubricantes.

La semana pasada comenzo a trabajar el Packing House de habichuelas, que opera en Belle Glade el Sr. Alberto Torres. Barías azucar Cubanas ya se hayan trabajando en ese centro.

La empacadora SAMSENTER de Belle Glade solicita senoras para trabajar los rabanos, mayores de 18 años sin limite de edad. No necesita hablar ingles.

En HOLIDAY INN pedían bookkeeper y receptionist que dominen los dos idiomas, para atender los telefonos y libros.

En el Belle Glade Herald necesitan persona que entienda (1 idioma ingles, para trabajar en el taller de imprenta.

Animal Games
Certain young animals play games that are favorites with children. Lamb and gibbons like to play "follow the leader."

Turtle Tests
Female sea turtles seem to peep copiously during their visit to land to lay their eggs. A special gland between the eyes is riding the turtle's body at birth, shielded from food takes it sea.

Sock Tip
Add a quarter cup of vinegar to the hot rinse water when washing socks. It removes the last bit of soap, helps to remove lint, and makes socks softer.

Explorers
Esta foto fue tomada la semana pasada, en Belle Glade. Muchachos de 15 años en adelante, cuyas actividades al aire libre son dignas de admiracion.

George Y Tony Rodriguez Tabernilla, hijos de Alicia y Jorge B. Tabernilla, la continuan sus estudios en el High School de Belle Glade, cursando el decimo y noveno grado. Ambos son muy activos en los football games, y se hospedan en casa del Coach del Colegio, Mr. Harry Davis.

El juego de football STUART contra BELLE GLADE resulto una facil victoria para los Belle Glade Rams, 33-0, el viernes 11 de Noviembre.

En Noviembre 24 habra un football game BELLE GLADE-PALM BEACH que sera muy duro pues los dos teams tienen cuatro juegos ganados, y piensan competir por el campeonato del Suncoast Conference Western Division.
